What's the matter with Frozen? Let Walter Day answer.

Lewis Spicer is elected a member of the Legislature from this District.

Who sent the soldiers to Frozen last Tuesday, and what were they sent there for?

To the voters of Frozen precinct. How did Back get 149, Callahan 153, and Spencer 155 votes there last Tuesday.

The offenders against the election law should be indicted and convicted. Will the Grand Jury take the matter up?

A fair election was held in two thirds of the precincts this year.
When can we have a free ballot and a fair count in the other third?

MILLER's own precinct repudiated him and his Midnight Ticket at Tuesday. The people there are for the right. See vote on another column.

If it takes from 4 o'clock in the evening till 3 o'clock in the morning to count the vote of a precinct under the protection of soldiers, how long would it take to count it without soldiers.

The Law and Order Ticket, though counted out, have cause to be proud of the race they made last Tuesday. In all the precincts where a fair count was had, they ran ahead of their expectations, which shows that the people are for law and order. But the ticket was counted out in one precinct where they least expected it.

The most glaring frauds were committed in Jackson No 2, Oakdale and Frozen. Had the people been allowed a free ballot and a fair count in these three precincts, the result would have been quite different.

We are not discouraged. The people have shown that they are for the right, which will finally prevail.

ANOTHER election has passed and the will of the people as expressed at the polls has been set aside by a few men at a few precincts. The election, as far as we have been able to learn, was fairly conducted at Jackson No 1, J. B. Lewis, George's Branch,
Clay Hole, Lewis Fork, Spring Fork and Hunting Creek precincts which gave A. L. Hagins 187 majority. He carried Frozen precinct to offset Back's majorities in Jackson Nos 2 and 3 and Crockett-ville, going to Oakdale precinct with a majority of 137, and who believes that that precinct went that much against him. But he was robbed at Frozen by one who traitorously and his ticket. Thus the will of the people was thwarted by those who counted the vote at one precinct and A. L. Hagins was robbed of the office the people gave him.

Grand Lodge F. & A. M.

The Masons Grand Lodge of Kentucky convened in Louisville, October 20, 1903, this being its 108th annual communication. The lodge opened in the New Masonic Temple, known as "The Masonic," which building was recently completed at a cost of $250,- 000.

The following Grand Lodge officers were present:

John W Landrum, Grand Master.

Gwen D Thomas, D G Master.

Rowland H G Ray D G Warden.

John H Leather, G Tyeagur.

H B Grant, G Secretary.

James S Chauler, G Chaplin.

James A Hodger, A G Secretary.

J M Andrew, G S Deacon.

R E Staton, G J Deacon.

Wm Ryan, G Marshal.

Dave Jackson, G S Bearer.

J S Kinnel, G P.

Joseph T Davis, G Tyler.

The Lodge was then opened in the 3rd degree for the transaction of business. The first thing in order was the Grand Master's report. His report was as follows:

There are about 23,000 Masons in Kentucky in good standing, and that Masonic work was increasing rapidly.

The following Grand Lodge officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Owen D Thomas, G M, of Louisville.

R H C Ray, D G M, of Morgantown.

Samuel K Veach, G J W, Carlisle.

John H Luther, G T, Louisville.

Henry B Grant, G S, Louisville.

James W Roberts, C C, Walton.

Joseph T Davidson, G T, Louisville.

James Hodger, A G S, Frankfort.

On Tuesday the procession was formed to march to New Temple, when it was dedicated in Masonic Honor to the State of Kentucky by Grand Master J W Landrum.

The Lodge was then closed to meet again in October, 1904.

The above was taken from certificates signed by the officers at the various precincts, and is the official returns, as returned by the officers of election of the various precincts of Breathitt county.
The vote at Oakdale has never been officially returned to the County Clerk, but the vote of that precinct was taken from a certificate held by one of the judges. The certificate, the Com's, used from that precinct, was a mutated one, having been changed in order to try to elect some of the Democratic candidates on the face of the returns.
